

Introduction

Hello, my name is Pedro Carmo. I'm a multidisciplinary designer based in foggy San Francisco, California.

Over the past 2 years, I've been a product designer at Teespring designing a new way for people shop and create custom products. Beyond Teespring, I also mentor design students at Designlab.

Before San Francisco, I was a product designer at Devmynd, rolling up my sleeves in the consultancy world in Chicago, Illinois. Apart from Devmynd, I also took part in building some amazing design communities at CreativeMornings Chicago and The Starter League.

Skills

Design, primarily focused on product thinking, interaction design, visual design, user experience, research and copywriting. Development, efficient in Html, Css & Scss architecture, Git SCM, Prototyping in Framer.js and working in Rails-dev environments.
